A REWARDING CAREER WITH BOOMING EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Our two-year Physician Assistant Studies graduate program at Presbyterian College is building the next generation of knowledgeable, caring medical leaders. As advanced medical practitioners, physician assistants are able to perform many of the same duties as a MD—diagnose illnesses, prescribe medications, assist in surgery—but with less school time.

At PC, our PA students benefit from:

- A comprehensive mix of classroom learning, lab work, clinical experience, and community involvement
- Low student-faculty ratios (13:1)
- Small class sizes—36 students or less

If you're ready to take the next step in your career as a medical professional, PC is the place to begin.

ACCREDITATION

The ARC-PA has granted Accreditation-Provisional status to the Presbyterian College Physician Assistant Program sponsored by Presbyterian College. Accreditation-Provisional is an accreditation status granted when the plans and resource allocation, if fully implemented as planned, of a proposed program that has not yet enrolled students appear to demonstrate the program's ability to meet the ARC-PA Standards or when a program holding Accreditation-Provisional status appears to demonstrate continued progress in complying with the Standards as it prepares for the graduation of the first class (cohort) of students. Accreditation-Provisional does not ensure any subsequent accreditation status. It is limited to no more than five years from matriculation of the first class. The program's accreditation history can be viewed on the ARC-PA website at <http://www.arc-pa.org/accreditation-history-presbyterian-college/>.

“The small size of our program allows me to have relationships with all of my classmates and professors. The professors know us personally and help us whenever it is needed. Knowing all of my classmates makes it easier to share resources, study more efficiently, and overall be able to work with one another more often than if there were 100 students in a class.”
